Beyond BOW workshops provide opportunities to learn outdoors skills. Workshops are designed especially for women and are an extension of the Becoming an Outdoors-Woman program sponsored by Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks.

Snowshoeing is the fastest growing winter sport in the world and this is your chance to try it. The BOW program has partnered with the Montana Discovery Foundation to offer a day of snowshoeing and winter discovery. The workshops starts and 9 a.m. and conclude by 4 p.m.

If you can walk. . . you can snowshoe!

January 12th – Saturday - This class is for beginners who have never been to a snowshoe workshop before. You'll learn about the different types of snowshoes and their benefits. You'll practice "walking," learn to travel up-hill, glissade downhill, walk along a side hill, and how to cross streams.

January 13th – Sunday This class is for people who have snowshoe experience or have attended a snowshoe class before. We'll spend less time on technique and more time walking. Both classes will explore the forest around Moose Creek and Upper Ten Mile Creek. A naturalist will share information about the plants and animals found in this area.

Moose Creek Cabin

The workshop is based out of the historic Moose Creek Ranger Station near Rimini – about 14 miles from Helena. The cabin has been restored and furnished to look like a 1900-era Ranger Station. It's equipped with a propane cook stove, heating stove and outhouse.

What should I bring?

- ◆ Bring your snowshoes if you have them. If you don't have any you can borrow a pair of snowshoes from us.
- ◆ Wear warm winter clothes and dress in layers. Don't forget your hat.
- ◆ Footwear should be sturdy snow boots or insulated hiking or hunting boots.
- ◆ Some people find it helpful to use ski poles while snowshoeing – bring them if you have them.

We'll provide coffee, tea, water, and a lunch of soup and sandwiches from a local restaurant. If you have any dietary restrictions or medical conditions please note them on your registration form.
